

With the development of the environmental management system according to ISO 14001:2015, LYHNIA S.A. recognizes its responsibilities and obligations towards the environment and people and commits:

- Continuous improvement of its environmental performance
- Compliance with environmental legislation and compliance obligations
- Avoiding pollution and protecting the environment
- To comply with all requirements arising from licensing and operation mode

With the development of the ISO 14001 environmental management system concerning:

- Prints
- Graphic Arts
- Projection and Communication Applications

The company identifies all environmental parameters concerning its activities and develops procedures and programs in order to continuously improve its environmental performance. The company's environmental policy focuses on:

- Saving energy and resources by developing a monitoring consumption system of natural resources
- Management of the solid waste produced, giving priority to separate collection and recycling
- Implementation of services and production of products with reduced environmental, negative effects
- Constant updating of top management and staff on environmental issues

This environmental policy is published, notified, implemented and supported by every employee in the company.